Patti
To a sweet girl
with a lot of personality. Be good and stay sweet and you won't have much trouble with life.

Love ya,
Judy
'62?

Patricia, ←
You're a real sweet girl and I know
we can always remain
the best of friends if
I stop calling you.
Best of luck in the future. I know you deserve it. Be good and you'll always have fun.

Just as always
Joe

Patti -

See! I know we have you. This week but with you and surely now could we start? Only tell me. You're a real life and with a great personality.
If you stay the same you're Gloria! - Remember me and LO. Mrs.
Wright.

Patti

It's been fun
knowing this year
even though you hit me in the shoulder all the time. Good luck with the men. Be home and keep swimming.

Sincerely,
Barnett

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1998). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1998). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United States is estimated to be 1.1% (Meltzer 1998).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with schizophrenia. The World Health Organization (WHO) has developed a set of guidelines for the management of schizophrenia (WHO 1993). The guidelines recommend that people with schizophrenia should be treated with a combination of medication and psychosocial interventions. The guidelines also recommend that people with schizophrenia should be treated in a community setting rather than in a hospital.

Hammond High School

This Is the Story of the Year

The "Story of the Year" is dependent upon action. Here are some members of the Girls' Swimming Club enjoying practice for their water carnival.

Two curious biology students peer into the microscopic world. Curiosity is the basis for academic interests.

"SPIRIT OF '76"

This is Hammond High School in its 76th year, echoing of its thrills, its disappointments, its triumphs, its defeats, its successes, its failures. Hammond High in 1962 is a delicate mixture of individual accomplishments, trials, and emotions which creates a unique "Spirit of '76." Just as great statesmen represented America's ideals and the spirit of her fighting men in 1776, students of today's Hammond High exemplify a spirit of true Americans, which is made up of moods created by single events, woven together with the threads of time and memory. Yes, this is the "Spirit of '76," captured amidst the bustling America of 1962.

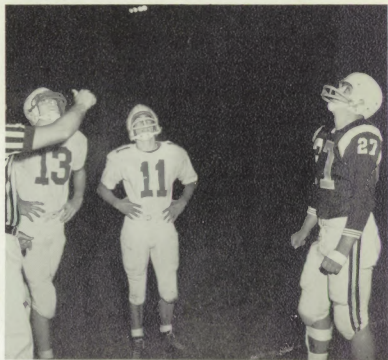

Three art students, Gari Brant, Mike Vaughn, and Terry Halev, work rapidly to finish the Christmas decorations for the halls. Activities such as this emphasize the students' participation in outside interests.

Action is the basic characteristic of the "Story of the Year," as it is an important one in the formation of "Spirit of '76." Action, however, is not accomplished by a single movement at a single time; many are blended to create such memories as the Prom, Homecoming, Washington trip, and graduation. Students will remember the exciting events at Christmas, the fall and senior plays, and Association Week. But these are not all the things that happened—each one of the "characters" of the "Story of the Year" will remember individual happenings in the academic, activity, and athletic scenes.

Team captain George Eitel anxiously awaits the outcome of the toss of the coin before an important game. Athletic ability and spartanship, rather than luck, determine the results of athletic contests.

Sandy Navak and Kathy Mauder seem to have registration under control at the freshman party. The personality of the school is most greatly affected by the students.

Journalism I reporters tour the Hammond Times building and discover what effort goes into making a daily paper. L.—Jere Stephen, Carol Hutton, Lynn Skolnik, Glenda Swallow, Joan Evans, Jill Levenberg, Lynn Balsley.

Parents and Students Learn

Mr. Lawrence Lundgren instructs Mr. Quentin Johnson, a student's parent, in the principal operation of the gyroscope at Back to School Night.

Parents learn objectives of a composition class in Miss Ellen McGranahan's class.

Audience Enters Into Intrigue Through

"Double Door"

The Van Bret pearls are taken out of safekeeping and given to Victoria Van Bret (Susan Mulligan) by the insurance man (Dave Schmidt). At left is Caroline Van Bret (Janice Beyer).

Rip Van Bret (Dave Cook) smiles at his bride (Ami Crumpacker) while Dr. Sully (Dave Brassart) and Caroline Van Bret (Janice Beyer) congratulate them.

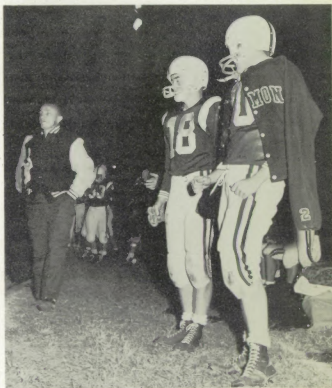

On November 17, a responsive audience saw the hateful jealousy of a forceful woman toward her half-brother's wife evolve into a crafty scheme to kill the intruder in the family as Double Door, a drama set in the New York home of a woman living in the past, was presented. Weeks of rehearsing and careful planning preceded the final production as interested students with dramatic ability gained an opportunity to display their talents. Even students with abilities other than dramatic and with the spirit of participation found use for their services on the various committees. The combined efforts of everyone along with the skillful direction of Miss Oza Cunningham resulted in a polished performance.

A lively cheer is started by Quenlin Young, Georgene Piorkowski, and Kay Dell Franklin of the traditional bonfire. Later on the candidates for Homecoming Queen and the princesses are announced.

Perhaps the one greatest contribution to the lively "Spirit of '76" in the fall was Homecoming, with its colorful parade, its half-time ceremony, and of course its football game. A triumphant defeat of cross-street rival Hammond Tech added to the spirit, as did the announcement of the Homecoming queen, Kay Dell Franklin, and her court. Senior princesses were Kay Dell, Pat Harding and Sharon K. Miller. Ann Lawther represented the junior class, sophomore princesses were Pam Parrish and Sally Fuller, and Jean Taliaferro was the freshman princess.

Action, Pageantry, and Tradition Accentuate Homecoming

Association vice-president Fred Foushee crowns elected Homecoming Queen Kay Dell Franklin. Fred takes the place of president Jim Vergin, who is a member of the football team.

Coach Bernie Krueger's eyes are glued on the action of an exciting play; John Mitchell and Bill Enoch look on. The Wildcats won the Homecoming contest, beating Tech 26-0.

Homecoming princesses, all seniors, ride to the game on the prize-winning senior float. They are awaiting half-time ceremonies which will name one of them queen. L-r—Pat Harding, Sharon K. Miller, Kay Dell Franklin.

Washington Trip Enhances Spirit

Excitement, fun, and tired people characterized the 1961 trip to the East. Touring such places as Annapolis, Arlington Cemetery, Jamestown, Williamsburg, and most of all Washington, D.C. landmarks, students of Hammond High discovered the real "Spirit of '76"—present in historic buildings such as the Capitol and the White House, but also mildly there among the eastern scenery. A look into the Smithsonian Institute, a trip along Skyline Drive, and a tour of the early capitol building at Williamsburg were among these sights. By the end of the trip, few refused to admit that they were tired.

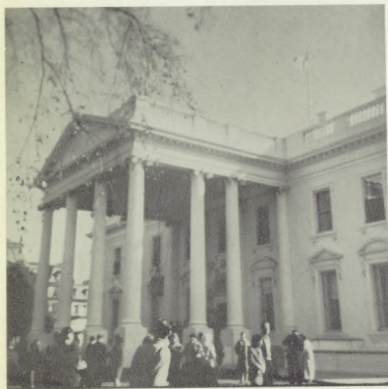

Smiling faces of Miss Emily Johnson and Miss Alice Bollin reveal that they are all ready for their exploit to Washington.

A colorful and patriotic sight to Washington travelers is the statue of Marines raising the flag at Iwo Jima.

Smooth and precise movement intrigues Hammond High students as they watch the "Changing of the Guard" at Arlington National Cemetery's Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

American flag is perched defiantly above the White House, and students wait outside after touring the decorative home at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Sight-seers discover that their trip to the East has left them slightly exhausted, so they catch up on their rest by relaxing on the train on the way home. In front are Pearl Jasis and Carol Fyte.

Bells, Songs, and Voices Say "Yuletide Spirit"

Looks of delight were shown on the faces of cheerful students as they reflected the "Spirit of '76" at the most colorful holiday, Christmas. Gay decorations in the halls and in the homerooms further accented this spirit. The Art Department took advantage of it by representing it in decorations; Vocal Department presented "Christmas Dreams," illustrating the spirit through songs and dances.

"Angels from on high" are portrayed by these girls during a Christmas narration.

The Prom Displays a Soft Mood

Paulette Nemeth experiences a touch of fantasy as she enters the dance hall through a flowered arch.

A romantic stroll down "Memory Lane" was taken by seniors and juniors at the 1961 Prom, sponsored by the Class of 1962. Hard work preceded the affair, for scenery had to be made, programs selected, a band picked and the dance hall chosen. Afterwards, with memories of the Grand march and of course dances, most went to after-prom parties. Some "looked forward" to the clean-up job the next day, but still the Prom was considered well worth the effort put into it.

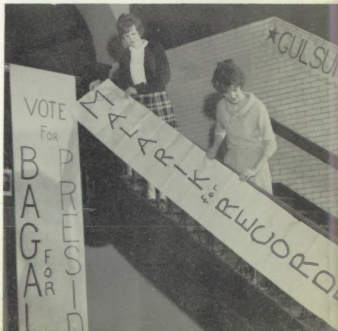

After-Prom parties take up much of the evening after the Prom; these people enjoy refreshments before the dinner at Woodmar Country Club. Left-right, Joel Grambois, Goyle Bohling, Peter Powell, Georgene Plorkowski, Carl Lovely.

Already holding a substantial collection of campaign tags, Glenda Swallow allows Leslie Kelly to add one more.

Jane Bomberger, Cindy Lindahl, and Sharon Malarik decide on a location for a sign in a hall already filled with banners and slogans.

Elections Begin Association's Activities

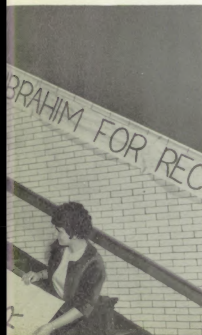

Beginning with spring campaigns and elections, the Association carries on the activities of the school by its cabinet and voluntary committees as well as by elected officers. Homecoming, Association Week, club schedules, and certain auditoriums are the responsibilities of the Association. Also, official correspondence is carried on by the secretary. The job of selecting the safe driver for this year was one of the Association, and Safety Week was another project. The two houses provide a place for voicing the opinions of selected Senators and Representatives. The student court tries offenders for minor "crimes."

Association officers pose in front of the Constitution. L-r—Gayle Bohling, recorder; Jim Vergin, president; Fred Foushee, vice-president.

Gayle Bohling and Fred Foushee confer with Mr. Homer Hightower about eligibility requirements of nominees for next year's Association officers.

Man Comes To Dinner at Senior Play

Bruce Moore and Barb Smith discover that greasepaint up close looks very different from its appearance to the audience.

Maggie (Leslie Mala), John (Jim Remick), Professor Metz (Allan Pogach), and Bert (Tom Cornwell) admire the ten thousand cockroaches contained in the box.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" was chosen as this year's senior play. Having been on Broadway and in movies, the play centers around the eccentricity of Sheridan Whiteside, who injured his hip while attending dinner at the Stanley residence. Through the play the audience witnessed the arrival of four penguins, ten thousand cockroaches, a group of convicts, a movie star, and an Egyptian mummy case. Several weeks of rehearsal and much practice by the selected cast brought the play to a fine performance on April 13, their "opening night."

Adjusting each others' choral robes, these three girls wait the start of the graduation ceremony. L-r—Kathy Allan, Karen Kleinschmidt, Betsy Levin.

Graduation is completion of a Goal; the Beginning of New Ones

Graduating seniors listen attentively to the commencement address. In less than an hour these people will have officially completed their high school education.

An end and yet a beginning is graduation's message. Completion of a successful four years means new opportunities and responsibilities—giving the graduation class new hopes along with their memories of what has passed. What each person contributes to the spirit of his school becomes important at that moment of receiving his diploma, for a sense of accomplishment is cherished by everyone. The spirit of Hammond High does not leave the individual after graduation, however; its influence stays with him for many years.

Waiting nervously in the Civic Center hall preceding the Pomp and Circumstance march is one of the longest parts of commencement.

Most important in the school life of an individual is academic achievement, so it is only natural for academic accomplishments to play an important part in the formation of the "Spirit of '76." Classroom activity included new teaching methods such as television, more demonstrations for science classes, and speakers who shared their knowledge with students about subjects from chemical composition to city welfare. National Merit scholarships were won, many entered the National Honor Society, and many others strived for better academic attainment. Speech, music, services to the school, and journalism—among others just as important, aided participants and observers.

Academics Aids School, Study

One of the most useful groups in the school is the Library Staff, which consists of students chosen by the librarian, Mrs. Jessica Rich. Members check books in and out, assist in keeping order, and give aid to the students in any possible way. Experience which the staff gains during their work is useful after graduation.

The Oil Panel is made up of five honor students and sponsored by Mr. Norman Beyer. This panel travels to different clubs and organizations in the area to present a program on the petroleum industry. Topics which they discuss include conservation, marketing, and the tax problems concerning oil depletion allowances.

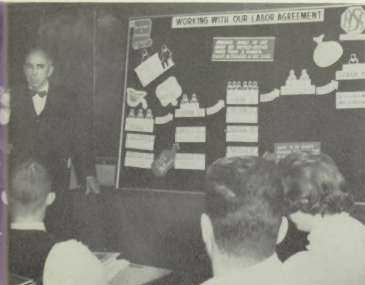

Members of the Oil Panel explore formation and discovery of oil on a basis for their discussions. l-r—Mr. Norman Beyer, Carol Fyle, Ken Wood, Mike Yellen, Pat Harding, Donald Foy.

Glass bending is an early experiment in chemistry which develops skills to be used in later projects.

Learning Is a Many Sided Thing

Mr. John Sanders speaks to an economics class about the steps in settling labor-management disputes, and he adds some information about labor organization in a typical corporation.

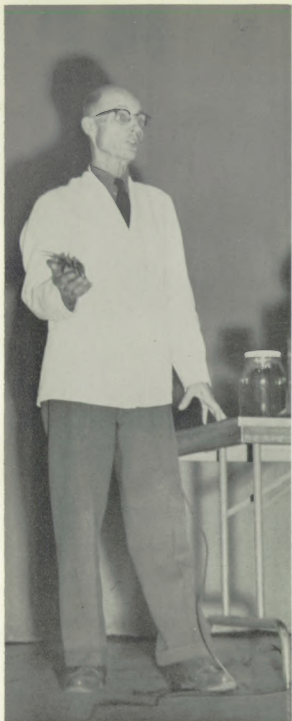

Close examination of Sylvia, a python, is a rare experience, but these members of Miss Virginia Esten's biology class gained this opportunity. L-r—Joe Jeffries, Dan Fary, Charmaine Kubisz.

Classes are not limited to the classroom discussion and normal activities carried on each day; supplementary projects are common. Outside speakers tell of their own experiences which pertain to the students' futures, while exercises done by the students themselves give them an insight to practical application of their studies. This extra material adds interest as well as addition information to classroom work.

Mr. Bert Herbert of the Research and Development Division, Inland Steel Company, seems to be making his point well as he speaks to a physics class.

Mr. Lew Johnson captivated the audience with his discussion about snakes, other reptiles, and spiders. Here he holds a tarantula in his hand and shows how it is friendly if treated right.

Helping in auditorium sessions as well as plays, the stage crew was of great help in production. Backdrops, lighting, and scenery all had to be arranged by these boys. Front, l-r—Bob A. Shoop, Richard Foust, Bob Underwood. Back—Brian Smith, Bob Schoop, Ken Heilmann, Malcolm Wade, Barney Walker.

Crescent City Jazz Club sponsored Ira Sullivan's band in a program illustrating the evolution of jazz in America.

Auditoriums

Academic-wise, auditoriums added special information to classroom study; they provided interesting entertainment while giving the student a better-rounded education. The band exhibited its abilities in a session, and Mr. C. J. Albrecht again brought a narrated program of his explorations. Sci-Math Club sponsored an auditorium about atomic energy, students were shown how to "Dress Right" in another, and the association candidates gave qualifications in auditorium speeches. Speakers were brought in to share their experiences with the audience; Junior Red Cross sponsored one of these. Spanish Club showed dances of Latin America in their program.

The National Honor Societies set the standards for the scholastic achievements made by the students of Hammond High. Many students strive for these goals and those who achieve them are chosen for membership.

Junior National Honor Society is the club for those freshmen and sophomores who maintain a B average or better. The club does a great service by its activities.

Open to juniors in their second semester and to seniors the Senior National Honor Society chooses its members not only by outstanding scholarship but also leadership and participation in school activities.

They Operate Hammond High's Business

Bookstore and switchboard staffs are chosen by Mr. Theodore Fruehling from recommendations by business education teachers. Each staff member has a specific duty and also does general work. Students who compose these staffs are required to maintain a good grade average; they gain experience very useful in later life.

Switchboard takes care of outgoing and incoming calls. L-r—Jean Radloff, Kathie Dinga, Shirley Roach, Carole Bucksot, Irma Greiseler, Sharon A. Miller.

By the looks of this long line, the bookstore staff has quite a job ahead of them at selling sectional tickets.

Regulations Are Carried Out

Under the management of Mr. Theodore Fruehling sponsor, and Alan Dominick, Secretary of Student Safety, monitors supervise the halls of Hammond High. By checking admits, they prevent unnecessary wandering that disrupts classes. Also among their duties are checking lockers, running errands for the office, collecting attendance slips, and preventing cutting in the cafeteria lines and running in the halls.

Carol Hutton finds that the hall is more peaceful than a study hall for catching up on homework.

All of the choral groups are taught by Miss Esther Waterbury and Mrs. Nancy Jacobs. Some ensembles practice during the day and some after school, and their polished performances show that they have trained diligently.

Mixed Glee Club is composed of vocalists who have learned the basic fundamentals of music in chorus and are ready to approach more difficult types of music. Front row, l.—Jim Neal, Rita Carroll, Beverly Celli, Sue Whitaker, Edith Warner, Carole Ruhl, Tom Newcomb. Row 2—Bennett Mayer, Linda Freeman, Patty Mate, Dale Dycus, Margie Brexon, Gayle Plunkett, Tara Hjerquist, Carol Hjerquist, Sylvia Szony, John Hegyes. The marching band displays its vocal prowess as well as its instrumental talents as Wildcat gridders make a large gain.

"76 Trombones"

Win Top

The band is one of the most active organizations at Hammond High; however, many of its activities are little known to the student body. Among these activities are presenting concerts and auditorium sessions. Many clever halftime shows were performed at football games, and a pep band was organized to play at pep sessions and basketball games. Also newly organized this year were the Pom-Pom Girls, who presented dance routines at football games. Along with these functions, individual members were given a chance to perform solos and play in ensembles for local and state contests. In the spring the entire band participated in the state contest. Mr. Kenneth Gekeler, assisted by Mr. James Qualkinbush, directs the band.

March To Rating

Suzonne Jonas and Bob Poratore, candidates for the Robin Hood Band in Hollywood, look over some music before practicing. Suzonne later won membership in the band and a trip to California to march in the Rose Bowl Parade.

Featuring solos of the various instruments, the band presents on auditorium emphasizing its components.

Among the first things done on an issue is the selling of ads. Here Ami Crumpacker, Carol Hufan, and Riki Block discuss placement of a "2 by 3 inch" ad in an issue.

Sports writer Ted Paplawski and sports editor Bill Bower look over plans for the layout of the sports page in the next Herald. These boys, along with John Serbin prepare the sports page.

Taking most time in the work schedule of a newspaper is the writing and typing of stories. Betsy Bailey, left, works busily on a feature while Frances Mickey, Carol Linnemeier, Carol Bruell, and Dan Slitt discuss the effect of an editorial.

Young Journalists Learn "Tricks of Trade"

Resembling the Hammond Times' staff room a few hours before deadline, the Publications Office during first hour is a scene of busy reporters and page editors, battling against time to get their copy in for a bi-weekly issue of the Herald. Under the supervision of Mr. A. T. Bolt, Publications Advisor, the pages of stories are planned, material written, pictures taken, headlines included, and all copy edited by the editor, business manager, and their staff of "junior journalists." Finally at the end of their production of an issue, the staff can relax—for the weekend, that is—and then continue on their work for the next issue. Improvements are always tried; this year the "New Calumet Herald" tried a new format, a different kind of paper, and a change in size.

Cindy Lindahl and Marilyn Kucer correct page proofs in preparation to pasting up the stories on a dummy layout.

At last the end of the period of working is done and the deadline is met. Another issue rolls off the presses and into the hands of early-bird staff members who pass out Heralds to homeroom representatives. Doing the "soliciting" at right are, l-r—Ami Crumpacker, Carol Hutton, Fred Holl, and Pat Sibbert.

Working at the printer's shop correcting stories can be the most interesting part of putting out a paper. Amidst presses and typesetting machines, Gail Swantka and Carol Hector look over their paper set up in type.

Yearbook staff discovers just how a book is set up to be printed by examining of the semi-finished material in the printer's camera room. L-r—Pat Terpstra, Betty Seehausen, Rosalie Shrago, Lela Ives, Jim Lowery, Janice Suliss, Cathie Cusick, Jim Remich.

Checking names for copy and checking proofs is one of the longest jobs in production of the Dunes. Happily coming to the "end of the road," Betty Seehausen and Rosalie Shraga, front, and Cathie Cusick and Jim Remick, back, go over some proofs.

Ideas to Express "Spirit of 76"

Typewriters and minds both busily clicking are standard requirements for production of an annual. Picking a cover design, division page layout, and section format is only a part of the work to be done. In late spring of 1961, preliminary plans were made for the 1962 book. Two members of the staff attended a summer journalism workshop and gathered new ideas there; these were applied to developing the theme early in the fall. After the distribution of pages was set, real planning became necessary. Plans for each of the pages were made; then material was gathered to be turned over to the printer. As the final proofs were corrected, the staff could look back to their constant effort each day during seventh hour and the times they spent out of school to meet deadlines. Mr. A. T. Bolt started the staff on the right track by teaching them fundamentals.

Under the approval of Lela Ives, right, Janice Sulist carefully completes the drawings for division pages.

Knowledge Is Gained for the Future

They Maintain Hammond High

Hard at work all day long, the custodians maintain the many school parts which need repair. Working in shifts, they are constantly on call for any problem that arises. John Newell and Ray Abney work late shifts. Mr. George Earl is the head custodian.

Janitresses keep the halls and rooms clean after school so that they will be ready for use the next day.

Belwyn Parks, right, lends moral support to George Earl as Mr. Earl files a metal part which needs fixing.

Of all the components of the "Spirit of '76," that showing enthusiasm in cooperation and service is the most helpful in association with other people. Club members show friendly spirit when they gather old clothes for charity. They show helpful spirit during club meetings and discussions, and they show spirit to learn in their projects concerning their interests. Not only does this add to the school's overall mood, but it gives the individual better qualities. Through offering clubs for many interests, Hammond High gives each student a chance to participate in club activities, helping to mold better character. Learning is supplemented by clubs, for the teenager must discover his interest.

The Student Voice Is Expressed

Each year the students of Hammond High School choose their Association officers for the ensuing year. In the fall they select their senators and representatives after they have carefully considered who will do the best job. With the selection of the court, the Association is seemingly complete. Many students, however, fail to realize that they too are a vital part of our student government. Without the cooperation of everyone, the Association could not exist.

Relaxation during the lunch hours can be pleasant occupying time with card games. Here Nancy Clayd, Jean Makowski, Brian Keck, and Wayne Karup spend some leisure time with informal discussion and a game.

The center of social activities at Hammond High is Student Activities. In addition to listing school activities on the calendar outside room 5 each month, Student Activities plans and helps other clubs with soc hops, holds the Christmas Semi-Formal, assists in plans for the senior banquet, serves refreshments at freshman orientation, keeps room 5 open during lunch hour for recreation. In addition it provides supplies for other activities at a minimum cost. Charles Barnes heads the organization as Secretary of Student Activities, and Miss Georgia Anderson sponsors the group.

Chuck Barnes and Janice Beyer watch attentively as Patty Throgmorton and Carolyn Gledhill participate in a noon hour game of checkers.

HI-Y

Service is the Goal of Y Members

Universal brotherhood is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club. Their plans for the year included many activities profitable to both themselves and others. At the football games, some of the members worked in the concession stand. Mr. James Jordan sponsors the group.

Another club interested in world-wide fellowship is the Y-Teens, which is composed of girls who also consider benefiting others besides themselves in planning their activities. The chief service of the club this year was the collection of usable clothing and toys which were given as gifts to needy children at Christmas. This group is affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. and works in co-operation with the Hammond organization.

Most members of the Expanded Arts Club are furthering the knowledge they have gained through taking courses offered by the Art Department, although an art course is not required for membership. Interest of the members contribute to make their projects fun as well as beneficial to the school. Among its activities are Christmas decorations, play scenery, and posters.

The City Swings with Jazz

To promote a greater understanding and appreciation for America's "foremost music" is the purpose of Crescent City Jazz Club. Through the sale of programs at football games the club is able to sponsor such activities as auditoriums, Ira Sullivan and his quintet presented the program this year. An annual event of the group is a trip to the Bird House, a teen-age night club.

Speech Arts members explored the fields of extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, poetry reading, dramatic and humorous interpretation, and many earned membership in the National Forensic League by entering and placing in contests. Even those who did not choose to enter the field of competitive speaking found an aim in Speech Arts to improve their daily speaking habits. Members showed their skills in the assembly program presented by the club.

Develop Speaking Skills

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

This year's debate team carried on the excellent record of past years with a bonus as most of the debaters were juniors and will still be here next year to continue their fine record. Mr. T. D. Reed, debate coach for 30 years, can look back to 39 state titles, both individual and debate, and several good national representations. He himself has been chairman of several state boards and conventions. Debate team members enjoyed traveling to many places to compete in debates and found pleasure in reflecting credit upon their school.

Drama production, make-up and other aspects of stage work were the chief interests of the Dramatic Club members. Meetings were planned to carry out those interests, including skits and make-up demonstrations. A showcase for their work was found in the school plays, in which members applied the cast's make-up.

DEBATE

Each meeting of the Junior Classical League is designed to further the aim of promoting the members' interest and knowledge of the culture and civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome. Such activities as slides, programs, and games are planned, climaxed by a Roman banquet every two years. Sponsors are Miss Margaret Work and Miss Kathryn Harrold.

Among the more unusual activities of the French Club was a French antique show by the members. Using many new tools purchased at the end of last year, members spent their time profitably. Work on their newspaper, "La Ragout," was another of their projects.

Latin America Comes Alive

Senoritas and senors presented an auditorium program and made a display case. Other club activities this year included a lottery and a Christmas party; members also entertained and used a tape recorder at their meetings. A very good member participation makes this one of Hammond High's most prominent clubs.

Hammond High's roster of language clubs would not be complete without an active German Club for interested German students. Ambitious members staged puppet shows and planned their annual banquet, which honored outstanding German students who are graduating.

Russian Club is in its second year of existence, as are the Russian language classes at Hammond High. Members showed their initiative and drive by several fund-raising projects including the sale of candy and the sponsoring of a soc hop.

Organizations Probe Interest and Recognize Ability

Social Science Club was organized four years ago, and Mr. Victor Georgas has sponsored the club for the past two years. The purpose of the club is to discuss, formally and informally, the political, economical, and social problems of the United States and of the World.

Membership speeches are encouraged, though outside speakers often talk to the club. Miss Frances Taylor presented a lecture and showed slides on Europe, principally Berlin. Another speaker, from the County Juvenile Court, discussed the problems of delinquency, it causes, court dealings and rehabilitation. Also the Hammond High Oil Panel talked to the group. Members frequently report on books connected with government. Students find a problem, do research on it and bring ideas to the meeting; then the group informally discussed the merits of the problem.

Science Explores for America's Future

Seminars are planned for each meeting of the Sci-Math Club. Through these meetings, member gain valuable information. An auditorium featuring Mr. Chester Gray of the Oak Ridge Nuclear Power Plant in Tennessee was presented by the Sci-Math Club. Many of its members are also members of the Joe Berg Science Seminar.

They Study Interests For Their Future

Junior Engineer and Technical Society gained its national charter in early April. To earn a charter the club has to have a consulting engineer, regular meetings, and a definite organization. Members took a trip in the fall to a display at the University of Chicago, and several members planned a trip to Argonne National Laboratories in Illinois. Sponsor is Mr. Charles Sizemore.

One of the speakers the Business Occupations Club sponsored was Mr. Crepeau from the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad.

The Business Occupations Club centers interests with the business world, helping seniors to gain information for work after high school. A report was made of students who graduated and went into business last year for reference in future years. The club sponsored many speakers and films about such subjects as "Office Courtesy." Sponsors are Miss C. Greene and Mr. Norman Stephan.

CHESS CLUB

Chess Club meets once a week and is sponsored by Mr. Richard Dennis. Inter-club tournaments are held, and a tournament won by Hammond, 7-0 was played with Illiana High School. The club is six years old.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Working with the purpose of guiding students interested in teaching as a career, Future Teachers of America presents films, speakers, and reference material to use by its members. In addition, the club donated some educational material to the Haven and promoted the student-teaching plan in which interested seniors spent four weeks observing and helping in classes of their choice within the Hammond school system.

Girls' Swimming Club came into effect this year; it is sponsored by Miss Barbara Keener. Members had to pass a series of tests to become eligible for the club. A water regatta was the main project at which water ballets, racing, and exhibition were featured.

A group interested in sports is the Girls' Athletic Association. Although it is not a new club at Hammond High, this was its first year of membership in the state organization. The girls started off their year with a splash party and also sponsored a "play day." Rewards for diligent work are plaques.

In its second year, the Aqua Divers continue to be one of the most active clubs at Hammond High. Members traveled often to a stone quarry at Dolton where they practiced SCUBA diving. To learn safe techniques of diving and the correct usage of equipment, members practiced in the boys' pool.

Sportsmanship is one of the essential contributors of the "Spirit of '76," and this, accompanied by team effort and student support, make up athletic spirit. Perhaps most vivid of all moods expressed during the year was that of cheering crowds watching football or basketball, as well as the less-known but just as important sports such as tennis, cross country, swimming, wrestling, and track. Coaches and players, cheerleaders and students each made athletics worthwhile, whether winning or losing.

Athletico

Half-time briefing is the subject at hand in the locker room. Mr. Krueger emphatically points out mistakes so that the second half will be even more promising for the Cats.

Playing in the shadow of a state championship, Hammond High's 1961 football team finished the season with a 5-3-1 slate, a mark not to be ashamed of considering the calibre of competition the Wildcats encountered. Facing the inspired Warriors of Bishop Noll in the season opener, the Wildcats dueling the Redskins to a 6-6 tie; the Purple Unit roared back the following week to repulse a driving Whiting team, 6-0. Traveling to the Steel City, the Wildcats played a determined game against the Rough Riders, but a late surge by Roosevelt in the closing minutes of the game dampened the Cats' upset bid and sent Hammond High to a hard fought 9-7 defeat.

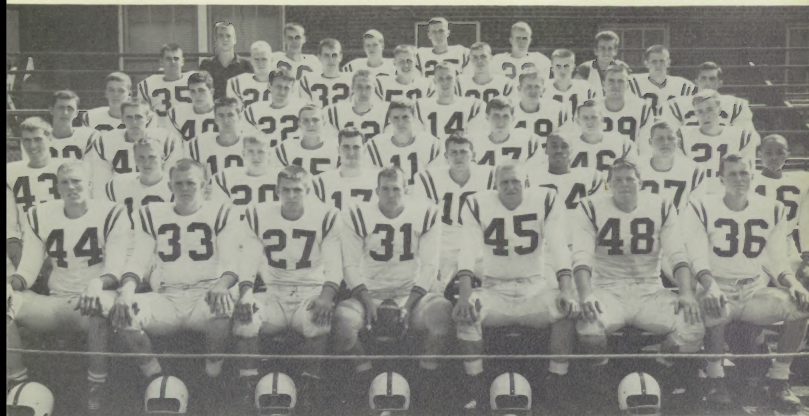

In the annual homecoming clash, the Wildcats rolled over their ancient Nemesis, Hammond Tech, by a walloping score of 26 to 0 and primed themselves for the most thrilling game of the season against arch rival Gary Froebel. In a tussle not decided until the closing seconds, an unyielding drive by the Wildcats sent the Blue Devils to a stinging defeat. The Purpleclads darkened Clark's homecoming game as they blasted the Pioneers, 20-0. They fell to a high-flying East Chicago Washington team, 0-13, but gained a post-season victory because of Senator eligibility problems. Morton's galloping Governors were given the sternest test and most difficult victory as the Wildcats nearly tipped the Top Hats in what turned out to be a 19-7 Morton victory.

Sampling a downstate grid power, the Cats met Anderson's Indians and obligingly gave them a harrowing time, yet fell to a 14-7 defeat. Still they held Anderson to its lowest number of points for the season. The Wildcat football team was a dime short and a minute late of another state championship.

Gridiron Strategy Takes Top Role

"Jump, Serbin, jump!" is the cry heard throughout the Civic Center as the tense Hammond High players begin the game against Tech. Hammond High won, 75-63.

Ed Sherry leaps high for a basket despite the surrounding Lafayette Jeff team members.

Lubricated with desire and primed for victory, Whiting's Oilers slipped by Hammond High, 57-46, at the East Chicago Penthouse in the second-bracket sectional pairings, bringing the Wildcat's 1961-62 basketball season to a 12-10 finale. Although Coach Steve Kucer's Purple-clads did not rank among the state's elite, the Wildcats maintained their dominance over Hammond area prep entries with lopsided victories against Clark (77-50), Tech (75-63), Morton (81-65), and Whiting (78-59). In early-season tilts, the "gridladen" Wildcats were subdued by powerfuls South Bend Central (67-44), Lafayette Jeff (82-56), and Muncie Central (70-56)—Hoosierland's Best, whom the Wildcats faced in their first three weeks of competition. Purple Five tipped Hobart (75-51), in one of the four games the Cats played in a pressing seven day span.

Arch-rival Froebel humbled the Wildcats (87-65), in a clash highlighted by John "Elgin" Serbin's breaking the Conference record for the most points in one sason.

In competition against the East Chicago representatives, Hammond High repulsed Roosevelt (62-53), but was vanquished by a sparse three-point deficit at the hands of powerful "Regional Champion" Washington (70-67).

-Capturing the Hammond City Meet championship, a Varsity-Freshman-Sophomore contest, Wildcat track team showed promise in next year's race and established superiority in several field and track events. Among the to-be-powerful events is the hurdles, with Tuttle leading Cat tracksters in that event. Other events, such as high jump, show some future later in the season.

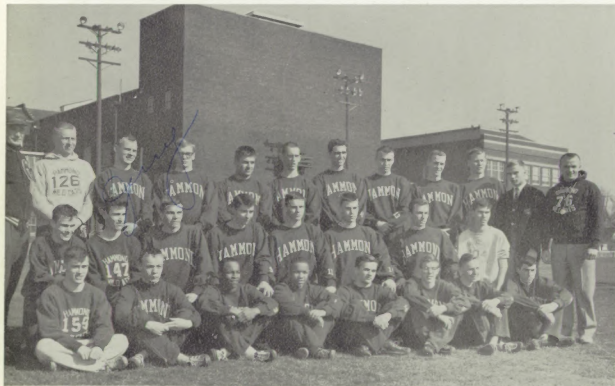

In later track meets, Hammond was scheduled to have a tough season as far as competition. Win over other Hammond schools, over Crown Point, and placement in Hammond Relays were only early-season victories for the Cats.

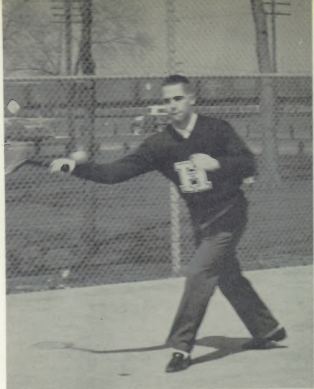

In pre-season practice Bob Haskell makes the pole vault look simple. Here he pushes himself safely over the bar.

Fall practice limbers up the muscles of Nelson Schmidt in preparation for season play.

Hammond High's Racketeers finished a promising season with a record of 13 wins and three losses. In Western Division play, the tennis team placed third. Practice was held every night after school at the new Harrison Park courts. Individual efforts in the summer were also good; Oren Conway earned a chance to participate in national competition; this individual achievement and the fact that almost all members on the team will return next year make the '62 team look bright. Mr. Hugh Dawson is coach of the team.

Wildcat Grapplers Capture State Title

Coming from a second place finish in the Northern Indiana Conference the Wildcats Wrestling team revenged its victor in the state finals to win state championship. With the most potential in years, the 1962 team had 2 state champions, Bob Haley, and Dan Mudd, and one second place winner, Jim Nolting. Besides these state point winners, there were several grapplers for the Cats who did exceptionally well in the sectionals and Western Division. Capturing first in Western Division meets were Brian Keck, Tom Kopacz, and Dave Mudd. Other members of the team supported the Wildcat effort with second places in Western Division and sectional competition.

Catfish Swim, Dive, Set Records

Fred Foushee, center, tenses for a fast start in the Western Division 160 yard individual medley.

Hammond High's Catfish ended their regular season of play with seven wins and two losses, went to the Western Division meet confidently, but lost to Valparaiso. Nevertheless, several records were set by the Cat swimmers in both Western Division and season play. Sophomore Dave Cook set a school record for the 100 yard backstroke; Allen Levenberg set a school record in the same event with a time of 0.1 seconds faster. A Western Division record was set when the 160 yard relay team of Rick Foltz, Allen Levenberg, Laurie Skov, and Bobbie Scott swam in that meet. Only three seconds slower than the state record, Fred Foushee's time in the 160 yard individual medley was sufficient to set a new pool and school record in the Western Division race.

Gaining power for a graceful swan dive, Mike Takacs practices for the Western Division competition. Mike's practice paid off, for he took first place in the Western Division meet.

Wildcats Swing for Solid Season

Sparking the 1962 baseball team to a 3-2 season as of late April, Ed Sherry, Bill Enochs, Ron Boudi, and Delmar Kuchaes along with their teammates promised a solid winning season. The three wins at the beginning of the season were over Thornton Fractional North, Highland, and Dyer. In addition to the good future ahead of them this season, many Cat baseballers will return next year to apply their experience for team improvement.

Batting practice finds Dennis Persic swinging hard. Jim Wells, at left, hopes that the pitch he called for deceives the batter.

Beginning the season with wins over seven teams and losses to only three, Hammond High golfers, with 16 more triangular meets and the Dyer Invitational ahead of them, showed potential in all three starting contests; among the teams beat was a considered-powerful, Gary Lew Wallace. The team plays at Lake Hills Country Club for practice and for many meets. Mr. James Jordan is the new golf coach this year.

H-Men Show Superiority in Varied Sports

The H-men represent the athletic spirit of Hammond High. The H-Men's council governs the activities of the H-Men; it is composed of a representative from each sport. Basketball programs and jackets are provided and the H-Men's Semi Formal is planned by the group.

Coaches Guide Team Practice, Play

The guiding light behind a team is the coaching staff. Coaches are responsible for correct training and good, fair play in season games; each year they are on hand at any time to point out errors and to give advice to the athlete. Many of the coaches have been at Hammond High for several years or longer; others are new. But however long they have or will serve, they act as an inspiration to the team members.

Coaches maintain Hammond High's athletic program. Front, l-r—Mr. Dennis Burdack, assistant freshman football; Mr. Hugh Dawson, tennis and assistant basketball; Mr. Steve Kucer, assistant football and basketball; Mr. James Jordan, golf and freshman basketball, Mr. John Wanzowitz, track, cross country, and athletic director; Back—Mr. Carl Deak, assistant wrestling; Mr. Jules Popois, swimming and backfield for football; Mr. Bernie Krueger, football and assistant track; Mr. Don Clark, wrestling; Mr. William Strator, baseball and freshman football.

School Board Promotes Academics and Activities

Elected school board poses for the photographer. L-r—Mrs. Margaret Allen; Dr. Henry Eggers, president; Mr. Leo Bereolas, treasurer; Mrs. Clair Stern, secretary; Mr. Charles Scott.

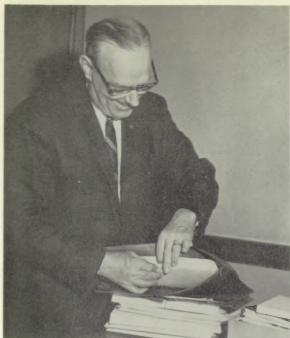

Working behind virtually all major plans and operations in the Hammond School System, the School Board is a busy group. There are five elected members and four appointed administrative heads; all belong to the School City of Hammond. All employment relationships are under the jurisdiction of the board, as are repairs and maintenance of all Hammond Schools. Through these and countless other jobs, the Hammond School Board has much contact with the school life at Hammond High.

Appointed members: Dr. Oliver L. Rapp, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Personnel, Research and Public Relations; Mr. Donald E. Gavitt, Business Manager; Mr. R. B. Miller, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. M. H. Thorsen, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

The board meets Tuesday evenings and at special sessions and discusses plans for the school system. Here members discuss a proposed plan.

Dr. Rapp packs some materials to be taken to his new office. During a period of a few weeks, he occupied both the principalship and his new appointment.

Dr. F. Kenneth Feuerbach, appointed new principal for Hammond High on April 10, begins moving into his principal's office by packing some papers into his drawer.

Promotions Recognize Administration's Ability

Dr. O. L. Rapp was appointed in early winter to his new position as assistant superintendent of personnel, research, and public relations on the Hammond School Board. Having served as Hammond High's principal since 1949, Dr. Rapp officially started work in his new job on January 1, serving temporarily as principal until Dr. Feuerbach was selected. Dr. Rapp spent much of his time in conferences, but still had time for observation of the school's problems.

Formerly superintendent of Allen County Schools, Dr. F. Kenneth Feuerbach has a doctorate from Indiana University. He has held several principal posts as well as being superintendent, and has been a football coach and business occupations teacher. He was selected for his Hammond High job in early April, after several weeks of consideration by the Hammond School Board.

Hazel Lindstrom, busy with daily attendance, always has time for answering a pertinent question. Dan Rodda asks about a message.

Office keeps attendance records; most of the morning is spent checking this. Here Sandy Horton, Hazel Lindstrom, Maxine Hensley, and Charlene Kammer check the school listings while Joan Pawenski looks over the cumulative records of a student.

Heavy snow in early winter found these teachers in some trouble as they entered the snowbank-filled parking lot in the morning. Cars stalled and were stuck, and the trouble did not subside until a few days later.

Seniors Study, Await Graduation

Seniors turned their thoughts to graduation and their future. The atmosphere changed from that of merely thinking about colleges or jobs to really anticipating them; this atmosphere was initiated when seniors measured for their caps and gowns and when they ordered their graduation invitations.

Mr. Muri practices on the Mighty Wurflizer of Racine, Wisconsin, for playing Pomp and Circumstance of graduation.

National Merit Scholarship winners were selected by scores on a National Merit test and their College Boards. Mary McMunn, Larry Hough, Bill Roseveor, Wayne Baxter, and Alon Dominic accept their certificates from Mr. Robert Brock.

William Rosevear, active member of Hammond High School student government, earned the title of Valedictorian for 1962. Among his greatest accomplishments are the following: a National Merit Scholarship Finalist, a finalist in the Mathematics Association of America contest, member in both the Junior National Honor Society and National Honor Society, and captain of the varsity debate team. In addition, he was a member of the National Forensic League and served as Chief Justice of the Student Court and on the Association cabinet as Secretary of Student Discipline.

In addition to earning the title of salutatorian of 1962, Gloria Waite was chosen by her fellow classmates to be the recipient of the coveted D.A.R. good citizenship award. Her essay for this award was chosen to be placed in the county contest as the city chapter's entry. Gloria has served as corresponding secretary of the H-Men's Council and as a House Representative her junior and senior years. She was a member of JCL, of Junior National Honor Society, and of National Honor Society. She plans to attend Purdue University, Calumet Center, as a mathematics major and hopes to become a mathematics instructor.

Commercial interests are a part of the lives of all students at Hammond High, and they supplement the "Spirit of '76" in a way not clearly evident, but ever present.
 Freedom to operate a business as one pleases with few restrictions is a right of Americans which should be guarded patriotically; the early leaders of our country rightly stated that this was an important right and privilege to be cherished with other fought-for rights. Also a freedom to pick what products one desires and thinks best is an old one, which, though not stated specifically, is as important to our lives as freedom of speech or religion.

Patti, Best of luck with an
 Bob. Be with whoever you
 like presently,
 Be good

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way for successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland/Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters, or electricians . . . Some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.

Bat,

So ends our junior year. Each year at Hammond High has brought new friends and a little more fun. I can end this one by saying sincerely that this has been the best year for fun and friends. <sup>you've helped</sup> ~~you've helped~~ it to make it that for me. Really has been fun & your friendship is cherished. We've had our spots but Really they're forgotten. I hope our friendship doesn't end during this summer. <sup>it</sup> ~~it~~ can come back next year even if it. Just think we'll be big seniors. we are so much to look forward to. Our Washington trip, senior pictures, prom & finally graduation (I hope) you already have a personal invitation to my wedding. And if something happens & it doesn't "come off", our apartment deal still goes. Always remember our fun's which has been "many". Thanks for being such a good friend. Lots of love with love or next weeks choice.
